Onside Law are very conscious of the pressures that many in the sports industry are facing.

As a small gesture to help, we are offering a number of free one-to-one legal clinics specifically aimed at those in the sports industry who are grappling with issues arising from the crisis.

There will be a limited number of 20 minute virtual clinics available to NGBs, teams, athletes and sports businesses each week.

If you would like to request a session please click on the link below for more details.*
